

Tenure-Track Faculty Position in Mechanical Engineering

The Mechanical Engineering Department at Wayne State University invites candidates to apply for a tenure-track faculty position. We expect to make the appointment at the Assistant Professor level, but will consider exceptional senior-level candidates with a strong track record of major external funding and peer-reviewed publications.

Applicants must have an earned doctorate in mechanical engineering or related fields with a concentration in one of the following two areas:

- 1) design and advanced manufacturing systems, implementation of artificial intelligence and machine learning in design and manufacturing, materials informatics and big data design, metamaterials, characterization and processing of materials, metal additive manufacturing processes, scalable and adaptable manufacturing processes.
- 2) autonomous systems, implementation of artificial intelligence, machine learning and deep learning, vehicle electrification, multi-agent dynamic systems, and advanced mechatronic systems.

Duties involve teaching at both undergraduate and graduate levels, introducing new courses in the applicant's respective field of expertise, developing an externally-funded research program, supervising and mentoring both graduate and undergraduate students, and engaging in professional societies and university services.

The anticipated starting date of employment is August 18, 2023. This position is a 9 month appointment. All applicants must submit their applications through the WSU Online Hiring System at <https://jobs.wayne.edu> posting No. req614 or simply use <https://waynetalent.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/2/home/requisition/614?c=waynetalent>. Electronic applications must include a letter of application; curriculum vita; names, addresses, and contact information for at least three references, a personal statement regarding teaching and research activities (limited to 3 pages), and selected refereed journal publications (limited to 3 papers). Faxed or emailed applications will not be accepted. The review of applications will begin on December 15, 2022 and the search will remain open until the position is filled. Salary and rank of position will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.
